New Sharp microwave takes guesswork out of cooking

Gone are the days of guessing how long to cook and defrost food in the microwave! The new Sharp R398NS does all the thinking for you.

As the latest model to join Sharp's extensive range of microwave ovens, this Sensor Touch Control Microwave Oven is equipped with a number of groundbreaking features.

Perfect for those who are often unsure as to how long to microwave food, the Sharp R398NS cooks by sensing the amount of time required. Whether you're cooking a meal or reheating leftovers, the Sensor Cook function will ensure food is always cooked to perfection.

Other features including 16 sensor menus, backlit LCD screen and demonstration mode (step-by-step cooking instructions) make the R398NS both user-friendly and functional.

People who struggle to think of meal ideas are sure to be frequent users of the microwave's 10 healthy pre-programmed recipes, while the wide 320mm turntable and powerful output (1100W) will guarantee quick and efficient cooking.

Like all Sharp microwaves, the R398NS is built-to-last. With its sleek stainless steel and modern design, it's bound to look great in any kitchen.

Designed to make hassle-free cooking even easier, the Sharp R398NS is available at leading electronics outlets nationwide.
